Lower East Side Printshop is pleased to announce out of the chaos and darkness... on view at the Printshop from March 3 – May 8, 2010. This presentation takes Matthew Day Jackson's print Metamorphosis as an inspiration to present new unique works on paper created by Golnar Adili, Shana Agid, Rachel Beach, Sandra Chi, Erin Diebboll, and Sadie Weis.

Borrowing a phrase from Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man for its title, out of the chaos and darkness... presents prints that investigate the ever-changing concept of the American Experience and the American Dream. The artists in the exhibition use several printmaking mediums and a range of materials to address our complex connections to mythology, history, and society. Overall the exhibition conveys an overarching sense of transition and metamorphosis that characterizes our current place in the world.

The Lower East Side Printshop's programs have been supported in part by the Milton and Sally Avery Arts Foundation, Carnegie Corporation of New York, Con Edison Company of New York, The Greenwall Foundation, International Fine Print Dealers Association, The Jerome Foundation, Wolf Kahn and Emily Mason Foundation, National Endowment for the Arts, Pollock-Krasner Foundation, The Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts.

This exhibition is made possible with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts, a state agency.

This exhibition is supported, in part, by public funds from the City of New York Department of Cultural Affairs.

We thank our volunteers, friends, members, and patrons for their dedication, support, and generosity.
